Despite missing some of this season through injury Montell Douglas has been selected to represent England at the Commonwealth Games in Delhi, India from the 3rd to the 14th of October. Montell who holds the British record for the 100 metres has been picked for this event and for the 4x100 relay. After representing the Great Britain team which experienced its own disappointments in Barcelona, she will be hoping for a late season peak. Meanwhile the Young Athletes won the National Auxiliary Championships in Manchester by a margin of over 200 points from Blackpool Wyre & Fylde AC.

Meanwhile the search for a new Courier editor continues. A likely hopeful has expressed an interest and is being contacted but this is no guarantee of producing a positive result. It may be that to have an editor from outside the club is an advantage but it does not preclude club members from still considering whether or not they too should volunteer. I'm told by some that I'm irreplaceable but now I've stood down someone has to take this over. Maybe the spiritually inclined amongst you could start praying for a suitable successor to emerge. You never know, even that might work!

A final editorial...Wither the Courier ?

For those of you who read my special feature on the History of the Courier (December 2009 issue) you may recall that it was originally intended to be a supplement to the results services provided by the Gazette which was originally styled the "Blackheath Harriers Gazette and Club Record". This reveals that the Gazette was itself at one time produced to record results of events as the Courier has done for over thirty years since it was decided by the Committee to support a newsletter regularly produced to take this function over from the Gazette.

As I related in that piece there had been newsheets produced for recording results as far back as the mid 1950s to enable competitors to access results more quickly than could have been done in the pages of the Gazette. This was revived some time later when in the club centenary year the Newsheet was produced on a regular basis to deal with this. The growing number of athletics events taking place from the 1970s onwards (and this was before the running boom of the next decade) caused a decision to be taken to make the news-sheets the official club archive, and a glimpse from an article printed in the spring issue of the Gazette for 1977 entitled "Wither the Gazette ?" is of particular insight in understanding why the need arose for a separate publication that dealt mainly with results. In this piece the then editor Geoff Last described how the Gazette had originally printed results indiscriminately and from a wide variety of sports including cricket, rugby and even tug-of-war! Although by the late 1970s the editor was still endeavouring to include these as part of the magazine's content he admitted that with the proliferation of athletic features and a recent explosion of athletic activity the Gazette could no longer cope with the volume of material thrown at it. It had been decided, wrote the editor with approval by the General Committee, that the Gazette was no longer duty bound to print match results in detail, particularly but where possible any effort should be made to keep club members informed of these things.

It was promised that the club would continue to publish the Newsheet which would contain as far as possible the results which had been obtained and that it should be bound and kept as a club record. Ever since then the Newsheet which in time became the Courier has been the club's official archive whilst the Gazette concentrates on articles and reports of events retrospective of the particular season just finished. However the Courier with its greater frequency could produce these more immediately and with excessively greater capacity for results to be included.

This has been the policy of the Courier and its successive editors in the years since 1977 but with the revolution in information technology since the mid 1990s questions have been raised about the necessity of a hard copy magazine which is still printed in numbers of hundreds (and faithfully distributed to club members every two months on a Wednesday evening), when it could be easily accessed on the club's website in PDF by all and sundry. It's a question I've asked myself and at one point in my editorship my response was to ask myself whether it was still worth continuing to produce something that was merely taken for granted by some, and contained material which very easily could be found on websites, other results sheets and in such publications as Athletics Weekly.

For that reason I very nearly gave up producing it thinking it wasn't worth the effort any longer until it was pointed out to me that this indeed the official club archive and would be missed by many club members. In fact just to have it posted on the website is only part of the picture. The rest of it includes the cases of 13 or 14 year olds having their own copy of the Courier given out to them at the track at Norman Park, an of the long-standing member now living way up in Scotland who dutifully pays his contribution to the Courier fund, keenly sending in his results for the over 70s vets by postcard. Such a person needs acknowledgement of their unique and much-appreciated support and they should get it.

Anyway to sum up the Courier fulfils a vital function in recording all results be they ever so obscure or seemingly insignificant. Athletics Weekly may give you results but they will be mainly of those elite runners who constantly get praise and attention from the athletic world at large. The Courier honours the achievements of the grass roots such as the fun-runners, the 70-somethings down to the young athletes who may not get an airing elsewhere, so as to give them encouragement both at the beginning and the end of their athletic careers. It also takes from sources which are complex and simplifies them concentrating on those who are club members so that the reader's eye isn't confused by irrelevant information, and even though it was not intended as such, the Courier can be a forum of comment and personal creative expression which is something I inherited from Bill Clapham and have endeavoured to continue.

All this leads me to conclude that the Courier should continue in some form in the future and it would be a shame for it to go into abeyance for lack of a suitable editor. Alas I cannot keep it going indefinitely and yet it may be that the only way for someone to take it over is if it does not get produced for a while in order that it would be missed. If so then surely someone will come forward to pick up and carry on the production of what is the official club archive. I have asked before and ask again, is there anyone who can consider doing this? Your response however small at first would be most appreciated by the club and leave a lasting legacy to its history.

A brief history of the Clubhouse

(This is an article I recently submitted to the Hayes Review for its forthcoming October issue. I am currently writing up a more detailed history which will appear in the next Gazette at the end of this year. If any members are interested in contributing material for use in such a piece I'd be glad to hear from them, especially those who can remember what the club-house was like in the dim and distant past)

The buildings of the club headquarters of Blackheath and Bromley AC were constructed for use as stabling facilities for clientele using Hayes railway Station when it was opened in 1882. They were used for this purpose for several years but eventually fell into disuse as the advance of the motor car and electric tram rendered the need for stables obsolete. For some years the buildings remained unoccupied. Then Blackheath Harriers which had moved from South London to West Wickham needed a base in an area still having unspoilt areas of countryside around it for training and it was decided to purchase the site which the Club President T.K Grant had discovered and considered suitable for a new club house. Land was purchased consisting of 'half an acre of freehold land and two good buildings of solid construction' including a cottage for £850. Completion was made in June 1926 and immediately work commenced to restore the buildings to make them suitable for use as a clubhouse. The architect W.C Pinhey drew up plans for a main building with two floors, the upper floor to contain a common room and committee room and the ground floor for changing room and bathrooms. Ownership was vested in a company BHHQ Ltd which was formed to acquire and develop the property and hold the Title Deeds. Meanwhile the club itself funded the purchase partly by issue of debentures which were purchased by club members promising eventual ownership by the club of its premises.

The buildings were opened for use on January 1st 1927 and although advanced by the standards of other clubs at the time the clubhouse was still had archaic features; lighting was by gas and the bathing was done in Victorian hip-baths with the heating of water erratic rendering it frequently scalding hot. Initially the premises were used mainly for sporting rather than social events which were still held mainly in Central London. Slowly more social functions were held in Hayes and eventually the Committee Room was converted into a kitchen with a bar installed to make the club self catering.

The cottage for many years housed the club Steward and eventually the Committee also met there. In post war years it authorized significant improvements and modernizations. New baths were installed and in 1948 the debentures used to finance the initial purchase were fully redeemed and the club acquired the freehold of the property. During the 1950s improvements were made including installing electricity to replace the gas lighting, the complete renovation of the changing rooms, upgrading of boilers and the installation of showers.

In 1974 the clubroom was made over and new fittings such as notice-boards and floodlights were installed. But by then there was a need for greater space. The cottage had become condemned and a new building scheme funded by debentures and donations was set up. A new block was built to be used as a general purpose exercise and committee room and included a purpose built flat for the residential club steward. This remained unaltered over the next two decades but in 1996 reflecting the increasing numbers of women members a suite of changing facilities were installed for their use. Finally in 2007, in memory of the club's most famous athlete the club-house was re-named the Sydney Wooderson Centre and the fabric of the building including windows, doors and floor surfaces were given necessary refurbishments. At present the club is aiming to commission an ambitious re-building program expanding its kitchen facilities and build a new outbuilding on the site of the cottage. This is subject to planning permission and funding and as yet has no definite outcome. Nevertheless the clubhouse has survived and adapted to changing needs and circumstances and will no doubt continue to do so in the future.

This summer's Parris Handicap series drew to an end on September 1st as 36 runners competed in the final race. Following on from wins by Tim Ayres, Justin Eastbury, Steve Pairman, Claire Parkin and Kelly McEntee this was won by Martin Lundie who held off a competitive field, but the overall series title went to newcomer Luke Brett, who as Martin had done previously won the Parris Shield in his first season. The winning margin was 12 points from David Leal with Clare Parkin in third place. Clare's performance was underpinned by placing as top female runner in four of the events, although Jane Bradshaw with 18'49 was the fastest lady over the season. For the men however there was a clear winner of the first man title as Glen Turner achieved this distinction in all six races with a fastest time for the season of 16'54.

End piece

Finally in what will most probably be my last Courier (with the exception of those back copies which I am aiming to complete for the archive) and in signing off, I would like to express my deep-felt and sincerest appreciation for those of you who have given your support and help in the five years that I've been editor and in supplying me with relevant material. These are in no particular order or significance of contribution: Anne Cilia, Andy Tucker, Bill Wheeler, Mike Peel for posting the issues on the website, Mike Martineau, Derek Gregory, Helen Godsell, Chris Woodcock, my esteemed predecessor Bill Clapham, Nick Kinsey, Andy Tucker, Rob Brown, Peter Hannell, Mark Crisp, Brian Saxton (Stack of the Arks), George Murray for his constant flow of postcards and financial support for the Courier, Tom Phillips and Mike Skinner. I would particularly thank David Cordell and family for assisting me lately in compiling the results and providing copy typing, Ant Draper for printing the magazine all these years and to Nick Brooks whose ardent encouragement and belief in the importance of this organ to the club has helped me to carry it on when I could have easily not bothered to continue in doing so. Finally my thanks in anticipation to the person as yet unknown who will take over from me as editor and keep up the role for which I've been told I'm irreplaceable. Thanks to the rest of you for taking your Couriers on a Wednesday evening and I hope that in the future it can continue in some form or other.
